CURRENT

We are a prog group.
All sorts of stuff – music,
humour, poetry,
existential juggling...

We formed at Basingstoke Sixth Form College in 1971, but then got lost in a time-warp until necromanced back in 2020, during the pandemic by The Drunkards' manager, Mr Glastonbury Stoat, who saw in us a talent he could exploit develop.

Our current line-up is Graham Koenig, Harry Netherland, Gary Michaelson, and Andy Singleton. These are our real names, but Mr Stoat thinks it'll help us 'sell' in America if people think we're a front for some tired old men.

We have four records out 'Lockdown' – available on CD or download from this site's shop. We have also contributed to the concept album, 'My Little Brexit'. The record company delayed our second CD / digital record, 'Austro-Hungarian Foreign Policy, 1867-1914' until May 2022 because we, quote, 'aren't as important as the label's other acts' (sic). Nasty marketing bread-heads heavy on the merch...

In February 2022 we were run out of town by flaming torch and pitchfork-wielding villagers, and 'moved' north to Stratford-Upon-Avon. In our spare time we like loud rock music, drinking cheap cider, smoking 'rollies' and tryin' to get off with girls – all (of course) in a very 'politically correct' 21st century way; having been re-educated from our decadent, 1970s, behaviour patterns, and, like, electricity therapy really hurts...

Our third album was in the can for months – but was finally scheduled for September 2022. We're not allowed to talk about it before release as Mr Stoat signed a privacy deal with our 'famous American co-producer' for... reasons. Called 'Teenage Wasteland', it deals with 'the endless pretention of birth, alienation, God-realisation and obliteration...' so's a bit 'proggy'.

We released our fourth album – 'Everyday Value' – in January 2023. Made with the legendary Tom Mason of the legendary Pink Flamingos as our legendary co-producer, this is again a 'concept' – this time on the wacky world of local radio and alien intervention.

Sadly, in March 2023, it was 'strongly advised' we move again by Shakespeare Country Police. We are now resident in Knowlton, Dorset, near To the haunted derelict church and haunted prehistoric earthworks. Undaunted, we have now released our fifth record, 'The Wreck Of The Ella Fitzgerald', which is a tribute to Ravenhell, as we've poached (but credited) their material...

In June 2023 we made our YouTube debut with a release of 'Open Closet' to support Pride month. September of the same year saw us release 'that difficult sixth album', '...when I was a boy...' which is not at all autobiographical.

In March 2024, to support 'Comic Relief Red Nose Day' we released the charity album 'Hibernia', which is a tribute to Irish comedy legends Foil, Arms & Hog - all proceeds to the charity...
